Calling All Anglers and Hunters

Did You Know?

- Kentucky has one of the country's highest concentrations of trophy deer.
- Kentucky's reputation for superb fishing draws more than 150,000 out-of-state anglers each year.

With an abundance of waterways and more than 1 million acres of land open to the public for hunting, Kentucky is the ideal place for a fishing or hunting getaway. Kentucky's rivers and lakes are home to a variety of fish – bass, trout, crappie, bluegill, catfish, muskies and more – providing fishermen plenty of opportunity to catch a trophy fish. Growing deer herds and turkey flocks; the largest elk herd in the eastern United States; plus quail, rabbit, geese and more, have earned Kentucky the name, "The Happy Hunting Ground." And many hunters leave the Bluegrass State happy indeed!
